Academic Opportunities

Student Research

Comprehensive research opportunities are available in many majors. Students develop a 2-3 semester project and present results on-campus and at regional conferences.

Internships

International students have the opportunity to complete 1 or 2 internships that may be a part of their academic major or during the full semester Washington Center Program where students do an internship with a multinational corporation, non-governmental organization or US government agency.

Faculty Academic Advisor

All new students are assigned a special academic advisor when they begin at Wilson College. Once an official major has been declared, then a professor in that academic field will advise the student.

Resources for International Students

International Student and Scholar Advisor

This person provides assistance with immigration, personal and advising issues. The advisor arranges special cultural and social activities within the community, trips to places such as Washington, D.C., New York, Hershey, and Philadelphia.

Academic Support Center

All students may receive free tutoring and assistance in reading, writing, test taking, and study skills. International students may also get a "conversation buddy."

English as a Second Language Classes

Advanced academic writing, English composition, and communication and American culture.

Career Resource Center

Provides assistance with graduate school preparation testing, job interviewing, career development workshops, résumé writing and job placement opportunities.

Transportation

The College provides transportation for students from the airport, train or bus station to campus upon arrival in the U.S. A campus shuttle takes students for shopping and other needs during the semester. Shuttle goes to Washington DC on select weekends.

Student Life

Safe Residence Halls

Students are guaranteed four years of on-campus housing. Residence halls are always locked for safety. International students often have an American roommate.

Friendly Families

A distinctive Wilson College program where community members provide a family environment for each international student. Meals, shopping and special events may be offered by these families.

New Student Orientation

A special program is offered for new international students to learn about the United States and its culture, Wilson College and academic life. New student orientation follows this special program prior to the start of the semester.

Student Organization

International students may be a member of more than 50 campus organizations. Some of these include the Muhibbah International Organization, Friends of Asia, Model UN, Billboard Newspaper, Orchesis Dance troupe, Environmental Club, International Relations Club, Habitat for Humanity, Spanish Club and Art Club.
