Amendments to the By-Laws of the Alumnae Association of Wilson College

DISCUSSION

The Board of Directors of the Alumnae Association of Wilson College (AAWC) proposes making three substantive amendments to the By-Laws of the AAWC.

At its meeting in October 2019, the Board of Trustees of Wilson College amended their By-Laws to create a single tier of Trustees, eliminating the position of Alumnae Trustee, and adopting a commitment that at least 30% of the members of the Board of Trustees will be graduates of Wilson College. As the Board of Trustees no longer recognizes the position of Alumnae Trustee, we propose eliminating that position from our By-Laws.

The College also now handles its employment activities in a centralized manner. Our current By-Laws reflect a level of involvement of the President of the AAWC in the College's employment of the Director of Alumni Relations that has not existed for some time, and we propose changing the language in the part of our By-Laws that described the hiring and employment of the DAR to reflect that the President and Board of AAWC provides input but are not directly involved in the Human Resources administration matters pertaining to the DAR.

Finally, we believe it is appropriate to integrate the Nominating Committee into the Board of Directors as one of its standing committees. Currently, the Nominating Committee exists as a committee separate from the Board of Directors, with only its Chair sitting on the Board as a non-voting member. In addition to the Chair, two members of the Nominating Committee are elected by the AAWC membership, just as we elect Directors, and two members of the Board are assigned to be members of the Nominating Committee. We have largely ignored that very separate structure for some time now, welcoming all members of the Committee on the Board, and assigning the elected members of the Nominating Committee to serve on other Board committees. We believe that we need a fully engaged and integrated Nominating Committee to best represent and serve the AAWC and thus propose making the Committee and its members part of the structure of the Board itself.

The transition from our current approach to the ones we propose to our membership at this time will be handled administratively, as only six members of the Association are impacted by the changes. Those members of the AAWC who have been elected to serve as either the Chair of the Nominating Committee or its members, as well as those who have been elected to serve as Alumnae Trustees, will now be recognized as Directors of the AAWC. We will continue to maintain in our records of past service to the AAWC the roles that alumnae actually held.

In addition to these three changes, there are several places where the nomenclature used by the College has changed and we propose bringing the language that pertains to College titles, buildings, etc. into line with the actual titles, as well as places where actual process has evolved differently over time than is now in the by-laws. As we propose individual substantive changes, we also provide for some edits that are necessary to address any grammatic and/or punctuation changes that flow from the changes.

DIRECTORS

Brie W. Burdge '16 graduated from Wilson with a bachelor's degree in Spanish and global studies. A resident of Howard, Pa., she is employed as the assistant director of student philanthropy at Penn State, University Park. Burdge hopes to continue to serve on the AAWC board because of what Wilson means to her. Wilson College has given her so much and set her up for success in the career she is pursuing currently in higher education. Wilson's faculty, staff and alumni gave her the confidence she needed to begin her life after college as a proud Wilson Woman. This year, Burdge plans to reinvent the AAWC Travel Program through the formation of a new committee that will work to implement new travel ideas in hopes of engaging a wider audience of all alumni to take advantage of travel opportunities with AAWC.

Ashley Carbaugh '18 graduated from Wilson with a bachelor's degree in business. A resident of Greencastle, Pa., she is employed as a manufacturing engineer manager/product manager at CAM Superline Inc. by Novae. As a Wilson alumna, Carbaugh wants to carry on the Wilson experience for others in years to come. Her Wilson experience helped her become the woman that she is today. She feels that it is important to be engaged with alumnae/i through outreach initiatives, as well as an active conduit between current students and Wilson's proud alumni. Staying engaged with current Wilson students allows for their experience to be as rich as her own. During her term of service, Carbaugh wants to have the opportunity to support all current students and alumnae/i through active involvement and interactions. Carbaugh says she wants to work with current students to help develop them for their future, as well as connect with alumnae/i for more involvement to grow alumnae/i participation in the Wilson community.

Amanda Clever '14 graduated from Wilson with a bachelor's degree in veterinary medical technology. A resident of Shippensburg, Pa., she is employed as the co-lead veterinary technician at Shippensburg Animal Hospital. For the past three years, Clever has served as a director on the AAWC, building relationships with current students and alumnae. She wants to continue this relationship-building among all of Wilson's members to spread Wilson's spirit throughout the world. Clever would like to expand on the amount of activities/areas being offered to help recent alumnae connect to Wilson in giving back to a place that helped them succeed.

Nominees

Judith Coen Grove '74 graduated from Wilson with a bachelor's degree in fine arts. A resident of Harrisburg, Pa., Grove is currently employed part time in the pricing office at Wegmans Food Markets. She has been privileged to be a member of the AAWC Board of Directors for a few years, and in that time been encouraged by the positive attitudes of students and staff. Even as programs have evolved to be more relevant to today's students, the rich history and traditions of the College are still respected and upheld. As the College celebrates its Sesquicentennial, Wilson is a vibrant and exciting institution, and she looks forward to continuing to support the work of the Alumnae Association.

Leslie Hickland Hanks '70 graduated from Wilson with a bachelor's degree in political science. She earned a Master of Arts in early childhood education from Shippensburg University in 1976. Hanks is retired after a career in teaching and resides in Chambersburg, Pa. She is grateful for the experience she has had serving on the board for her past terms. Hanks has made new friends with wonderful Wilson alums, learned more about the great things that are happening on campus and been given an opportunity to serve the College. She looks forward to continuing with this opportunity. Hanks hopes to become a resource for the new president regarding the relationship between the College and the varied community groups with which she is involved.

Alaina Hofer Irvin '11 graduated from Wilson with a bachelor's degree in history and political science. She earned a Master of Education in school counseling from Shippensburg University. Now living in St. Thomas, Pa., she is employed as a professional school counselor. Irvin wishes to continue her experience on the board because she loves Wilson and wants to make it the best place for our future alums. The board has allowed her to grow even more in love with Wilson, grow in her leadership skills, and grow in knowledge of how the college works behind the scenes. Teaching young alums the importance of giving back to Wilson, no matter how, is one item Irvin wants to address this term.

Susan Mowen '97 graduated from Wilson with a bachelor's degree in elementary education. A resident of Clear Spring, Md., she is employed as a special education/reading intervention teacher for grades 6-8. When Mowen steps onto the Wilson campus, she is overwhelmed with a sense of belonging. Wilson, for her, is family. The ladies whom she has met during her college years are her sisters; the ladies and men she has recently met are her siblings. As a family, we work together, play together, commiserate together, and this is why Mowen wishes to continue to serve on the alumnae board. It is her opportunity to give to her Wilson family the best of herself as Wilson gave her the best of herself: family. She has been so grateful for the opportunity to serve these past six years and to extend her family ties. Mowen wishes to continue to add to her family as she works with her brothers and sisters to enhance the Wilson experience for today's students and alums.

Suzanne Clark Pranke '74 graduated from Wilson with a bachelor's degree in Spanish. Pranke earned a Master of Business Administration from the University of North Florida in Jacksonville, Fla. She is retired and resides in Grapevine, Texas. She spends time with the USTA and ITF as a tennis official. Pranke hopes to help preserve the best characteristics of the College—academics, integrity and the honor code—by lending the insight she has gained in her experiences in the 45 years since graduation so that other students may benefit as she has.

Sarah Muller Smith '85 graduated from Wilson with a bachelor's degree in communications. A resident of Williamsburg, Va., she is employed as an HR client partner at William & Mary. She completed her first term of service on the alumnae board in 2014. Smith has followed the progress of Wilson as she welcomed male students and developed academic and athletic programs that have given the institution positive exposure and emphasized its more inclusive brand. Working to impact how alumni, and the College, navigate these changes would be an accomplishment and an honor for anyone, Smith says.

Susan Smith '70 graduated from Wilson with a bachelor's degree in English. She received a Master of Arts in library science in 1972 from Glassboro State College in Glassboro, N.J., and in educational administration in 1978 from Rowan University formerly Glassboro State College. Smith also earned a Doctor of Education in educational leadership from Nova Southeastern University, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., in 1993. A resident of Mullica Hill, N.J., Susan would like to continue to serve on the AAWC board, indicating Wilson provided her with a strong academic background, lifelong friends and the seeds of confidence to become who she is now. Having retired, it is her good fortune to be able to concentrate on just the activities she enjoys. Continuing to serve on the board affords her ongoing opportunities to stay connected to the College and friends, as well as to support and advise the board based on her educational administration, policy and finance skills.
