Broadway, England

Simply beautiful, Broadway was first settled by the Romans in Worcestershire and is often referred to as the "Jewel of the Cotswolds." The home of William Morris, leader of the English Arts and Crafts Movement whose devotees settled throughout the Cotswolds, Broadway was once a major stage coach stop brimming with inns and public houses and today beckons travelers with its distinct authenticity and tranquility.

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT: During the exclusive TOWN & COUNTRY LIFE FORUM®, local residents will discuss life in the Cotswolds.

Cotswold Villages

The gentle, rolling hillsides, thatched-roof cottages and country paths found in the charming Cotswold villages are something from the pages of a time-worn, pastoral storybook. These scenic villages span the boundaries of multiple Old English shires—counties established during the Norman Conquest of England in 1066.

One of the Cotswolds' best known villages, Stow-on-the-Wold is a delightful market town in Gloucestershire, located along Fosse Way, the first great Roman road in England. It was designed around its market square during the height of the English wool industry, where as Daniel Defoe told it, up to 20,000 sheep a day were funneled to market along narrow-walled avenues, called tunes.

Romantic gardens and classic stone houses are part of many English traditions that live on in the Cotswold and Oxfordshire villages, a bastion of beauty, history and culture.

Your Farewell Dinner will be held in one of Oxford's oldest and most beautiful dining halls.

Nestled inside the scenic Vale of Evesham, medieval Chipping Campden was built on the “white gold” wealth of the wool merchants, who left behind the soaring 15th-century Gothic tower of the Church of St. James and honey-colored wool-tycoon manors, including the 14th-century Grevel House, the oldest house in Chipping Campden. Townspeople carry on along the village's picturesque, arcaded High Street, which retains its old English character.

The beautiful, rural Warwickshire countryside is home to Stratford-upon-Avon, located on the banks of the River Avon. The birthplace of poet and playwright William Shakespeare and the home of the Holy Trinity Church, it is one of the most important cultural and historic locations in England. Wandering through Stratford-upon-Avon is like taking a step back in time to Olde England, with its finely preserved 16th-century store fronts and half-timbered farm houses. The layout of the town has remained unchanged since it was founded as a bustling market town in A.D. 1200.

The magnificent Church of St. John the Baptist is tucked away at the bottom of Burford's main road in Oxfordshire. Inside, a monument to Henry VIII's surgeon-barber is said to contain the first depictions of native Americans in England.

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT: Visit the well-preserved childhood cottage home and gardens of Anne Hathaway, Shakespeare's wife.

Blenheim Palace

Sir Winston Churchill remarked that he had made two of the most important decisions of his life at Blenheim Palace—to be born and to marry. He continued, in that dry wit of his, to say he was “content with the decision I took on both occasions.” Built in the 18th century by another national hero, Sir John Churchill, the first

Duke of Marlborough, with funds donated by a grateful Queen Anne after his victory at the Battle of Blenheim, this stunning Baroque masterpiece today is a UNESCO World Heritage site and one of England's most treasured stately country houses. The estate's 2200-acre parkland and gardens were designed by the legendary English landscape architect “Capability” Brown.

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT: By special arrangement, meet Lord Charles Spencer-Churchill, who will give our group a private and personal introduction to his family home before an exclusive luncheon in the Marlborough Room.

Highclere Castle— “Downton Abbey”

The authentic Highclere Castle, featured as the Crawley family's estate in the acclaimed international PBS MASTERPIECE television series Downton Abbey, is set in an Edwardian-period property among 1000 acres of spectacular parklands. It was built as a Victorian country house upon the foundation of a medieval palace owned for nearly 900 years by the Bishops of Winchester. The richly decorated state rooms and bedrooms have been restored with authentic elements including embossed Spanish leather wall coverings, 15th-century Italian embroideries, 18th-century silk bed hangings and 400 years' worth of European and English paintings and furniture, including a mahogany desk and chair that once belonged to Napoleon.

Scenes from Downton Abbey are also filmed in Bampton, one of the oldest villages in England. First established during the Iron Age, with later markings as the site of an extensive unwall'd Roman settlement, the historic town is included in William the Conqueror's Domesday Book of 11th-century shires and landholders.

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT: Discover the authentic history of one of the great manor houses of England, where the Carnarvon family has lived since 1679. Explore the exquisite staterooms and bedrooms, walk the lush grounds and see the Egyptian antiquities on exhibit that celebrate the fifth Earl of Carnarvon's love of Egyptology. The combined efforts of the benefactor Earl of Carnarvon and archaeologist

See stately Parliament, iconic Big Ben and the famous London Bridge on the London Post-Program Option.

LYGON ARMS HOTEL

Welcoming guests since the 16th century, the traditional, quintessentially English LYGON ARMS HOTEL captures the charm of bygone years and the romance of the countryside with all the modern conveniences of a fine hotel. Enjoy customary afternoon tea in the serene courtyard and walk through the lovely English gardens. Located in the heart of the Cotswolds in the quaint village of Broadway, this country inn is an ideal “home” from which to explore the English countryside.

MACDONALD RANDOLPH HOTEL

Located in the center of Oxford in a landmark building, the Five-Star MACDONALD RANDOLPH HOTEL has elegance and charm and offers award-winning food in the heart of this world-famous university city. Having played host to prime ministers and presidents, the hotel’s renowned Morse Bar is instantly recognizable as the pub favored by Colin Dexter’s fictional detective, Inspector Morse. The hotel’s beautiful architecture and historic setting provide the perfect venue to enjoy afternoon tea. Each room has all the modern amenities of a fine hotel.

Howard Carter led to the discovery and excavation of Egyptian King Tutankhamun’s tomb in 1922.

Oxford

Affectionately named the “city of dreaming spires” by adoring poets, Oxford is home to England’s most venerated university which counts Sir Thomas More, Percy Bysshe Shelley and Margaret Thatcher among its illustrious alumni. Steeped in eight centuries of history and erudition, Oxford continues to nurture great scholars while blending its revered traditions with cutting-edge research and instruction provided by many of the world’s brightest minds.

Here, the exclusive customs of a Formal Hall dinner require proper attire, or college gowns, and are still honored with a three-course meal and waiter service. Magnificent cobblestone squares, medieval alleyways and Renaissance quadrangles fill the grounds of the oldest university in the English-speaking world.

CULTURAL ENRICHMENTS: Visit the Ashmolean Museum of Art and Archaeology, founded in 1683 as the world’s first university museum; enjoy an exclusive lecture about student life at Oxford; and join your traveling companions for a specially arranged, exclusive and private Farewell Dinner in one of the college’s hallowed dining halls.
